| 1  | We have a desire to purchase property in Leavenworth, but cost of land/housing is a barrier.   | 10/29/2025 12:06 AM |
| 2  | We would love to live up here but there are no affordable rentals.   | 10/28/2025 4:02 PM  |
| 3  | I live in a bedroom apartment with three people.   | 10/28/2025 1:30 PM  |
| 4  | I believe my situation is unique. I have a spouse with a great job and great pay that allows us to maintain the kind of lifestyle and housing we want.   | 10/27/2025 4:54 PM  |
| 5  | As seniors, My Husband and I refuse to go into debt to buy or build a home. We moved into town in 2012, thinking we could buy a modest rambler home. We bought property in 2016. We were never able to afford building on it, because of the cost of builders and supplies. We ended up selling it. We still can't afford to live in a home, so chose to rent a condo. We really wish there was more inventory and more opportunities for seniors who don't have a lot of money. Now I feel like the working poor at age 71. | 10/27/2025 3:38 PM  |
| 6  | Cannot afford to buy in Leavenworth  | 10/20/2025 8:31 AM  |
| 7  | We live here but not sure how long we'll be able to stay if costs continue to rise. We'd like to purchase a home or land some day but it doesn't seem possible.  | 10/16/2025 5:40 PM  |
| 8  | it was difficult finding a house in my budget that didn't need tons of work. i was outbid by westside all cash offers several times before finding a house prior to it hitting the market  | 10/14/2025 7:49 PM  |
| 9  | I physically "work" in Leavenworth; however, I work "remote" for a company located outside of the state. I've searched for local jobs but the lack of after-school care/ affordable child care limits what in person positions I can apply for and the remote positions I find don't pay enough to cover cost of living and child care.  | 10/14/2025 1:16 PM  |
| 10 | Although I live here, I would not move here again. The place is becoming a mess.   | 10/12/2025 12:55 PM |
| 11 | I have chosen to live simply with limited resources which I recognize means I cannot afford owning a home until my income changes.   | 10/12/2025 8:20 AM  |
| 12 | it took alot of saving, and then waiting until a cheaper opportunity came up. Took me about 5 years to finally own a home here, and two purchase attempts through seller financing before I bought my current property.  | 10/11/2025 7:32 PM  |
| 13 | I grew up in Leavenworth, went to Cascade school district and I can not afford a rental or to buy in my own home town. If you want to rent in Leavenworth your choices are either $2000 apartment or a $4000 house. You wanna buy? Keep dreaming.The cheapest still out prices what locals can afford. I've seen the last 5 years a decrease in tips due to tourists not coming as often yet the cost of living in Leavenworth keeps skyrocketing.   | 10/9/2025 2:59 PM   |
| 14 | We thought we had an ideal home and location but the city of Leavenworth prioritizes businesses over homeowners. They allow businesses to disrupt the peace of residents because it's only a small handful and tells them to "get used to it"  | 10/8/2025 2:59 PM   |
| 15 | Lived in car for 3 years working as a FS employee. Chose to live in vehicle to cut living expenses due to poor wages. A community member offered a room for rent with very low financial demands. After laid off from FS in 2024 I got into WVC nursing program. Without the kindness of my landlords rental demands I would not be living in a house.   | 10/8/2025 12:27 PM  |
| 16 | We make a decent living at this point, and we have looked into buying a property and building in Leavenworth to be closer to our community, and to be able to walk/bike to work. But the total cost for a cheapish build and the property, plus insurance, interest, etc, was going to put our total housing costs at over $5,000 per month (compared to $2400 for our rental in   | 10/8/2025 11:03 AM  |

| 17 | I would like to be able to own a home in Leavenworth, but the cost of healthcare especially, plus medical-related debt, require that I keep my housing cost as low as possible. This leads to living in homes that lack real, full kitchens, have sub-par heating and air conditioning and a lack of privacy. Either that or I can live much further outside of the city limits with more amenities but adding a significant drive to work and any other activities.  | 10/8/2025 10:00 AM |
| 18 | Thankfully some good friends have given us an adu to live in at an affordable rate. Before hand we lived in the Leavenworth Haus. That place is an option but is an awful one. They nickel and dimed us. For example every apt only has one parking space. So I was parking on the street- then my car was keyed- so I asked for another parking spot and all they had was garages so my rent went up by $200 a month so my car was off the street... they make you pay an extra $45 a month for a pet... so before we knew it we were paying over $2 for a one bedroom. Thats not ok. The only reason we can afford to live here now is our friends. But their family might need to move in due to their housing costs... kicking us out. Im nervous what our options will be.  | 10/8/2025 8:40 AM  |
| 19 | We are a generational leavenworth family, do to housing maybe no more   | 10/8/2025 7:51 AM  |
| 20 | Greater Leavenworth used to have homes teachers could afford to buy. The limited space to develop and the popularity of living in Leavenworth has driven up housing costs, duh... we all know this.... Teacher income can no longer afford homes in much of Upper Valley. Tourism is not the sole reason for Leavenworth's popularity. The tech folks who are my neighbors did not move here during Covid for bratwurst and umpa festivals. Any significant measures by City to kill tourism is not smart. Tourist dollars support the residents who still live in Leavenworth.   | 10/8/2025 6:41 AM  |

| 22 | We currently reside in Leavenworth, where my family and I raised our children. Sadly, three of them have since moved away — not by choice, but because the cost of living here has become unaffordable. I still have one child at home who wishes to remain in his hometown, yet that possibility grows more uncertain with time. It appears that the homes being sold in Leavenworth are never intended for those who were born and raised here, plus have a job here. Instead, they are increasingly purchased by individuals able to pay extraordinarily high prices for weekends only. Meanwhile, some companies own multiple properties, further reducing the availability of housing for local families. This trend paints a troubling picture for the future of our community. Lifelong residents — the very people who built and sustained Leavenworth — are being gradually displaced and the young ones have no hope at owning a piece of their "own" home town It is deeply concerning to see the character of our town change in a way that excludes its own natives. | 10/7/2025 8:56 PM  |
| 23 | At present, there is none.  | 10/7/2025 7:15 PM  |
| 24 | We have lived here for 8 years and were fortunate to find a place to rent. When we first moved in rent was $1495/mo and is now $2295. We would love to buy but even with dual incomes we cannot touch anything in the area when mortgage and property taxes are factored. Eventually we will be priced out of our rental as well. This is unfortunate as we love this area and community.   | 10/7/2025 7:13 PM  |
| 25 | Although we were fortunate enough to get in on the housing market very early on, property taxes are making us strongly consider the need to move down valley.   | 10/7/2025 1:40 PM  |
| 26 | I used to live in Leavenworth but I left when my landlord increased the rent $500 month.   | 10/7/2025 6:36 AM  |
| 27 | I bought my home in Leavenworth in 2012 for $255,000. That is the ONLY reason I can live here. I could never afford to buy here if I was trying to do it now. Most people's rent for an small apartment here in town is way more than my mortgage payment.   | 10/6/2025 10:52 PM |
| 28 | Its impossible to afford housing in leavenworth if you work in leavenworth. All my friends at 30, 35, 40 years old all have roomates andd can only rent. There are so many empty houses that people use for vacation homes its impossible to try and plan a future in leavenworth   | 10/6/2025 10:30 PM |
| 29 | Housing is extremely expensive compared to 8 years ago especially compared to wages and qty of job opportunity...single wide trailers are $1800 a month, manager jobs are in the $19hr range... not sustainable   | 10/6/2025 9:00 PM  |
| 30 | I would absolutely love to own a home and call Leavenworth m permanent residency. I   | 10/6/2025 8:44 PM  |

2025 Housing Survey (City of Leavenworth)

currently am working two jobs just to try to afford rent each month and can't afford to put any money into savings to save for a down payment. Also no one in town pays enough to support living here more permanently unless you are a business owner. I love this area but it is becoming completely inaccessible for the up and coming generation of young adults looking to buy

|    |   |                    |
| 31 | If it were easier financially to live here we might be able to fix our house to offer more rental housing but we are taxed and red taped to the max. You kill families trying to live here with high tourist costs.   | 10/6/2025 8:22 PM  |
| 32 | I am a single woman who was a displaced worker for many years-I've always worked hard-lived here for over two decades-I give back to my community but we are getting priced out like much of Wa State. I would love to be able to buy something before I hit retirement.  | 10/6/2025 8:13 PM  |
| 33 | The last question is really dumb. Living in a particular place is not a right. Quit pushing the progressive agenda on housing. You permitted a massive apartment complex, without any infrastructure upgrades or the thought process of planning for it. City wastes such money on these surveys and consultants and we never see anything from it.   | 10/6/2025 7:35 PM  |
| 34 | Preserving existing single family homes and neighborhoods from tear down and replacement with large multi-family structures only exacerbates housing costs by making the land increasingly valuable to developers and it makes obtaining a single family home even more out of reach for residents. There needs to be a balanced plan that encourages preservation in existing neighborhoods while encouraging multi-family development in designated areas. Don't lose sight of keeping the residential character of Leavenworth's neighborhoods otherwise Leavenworth will soon be unrecognizable to the people that have lived here for generations. | 10/5/2025 5:44 PM  |
| 35 | Rent increases do not reflect current wages and it is unlivable for many residents. The recent hikes in rent cost are not reflective of updates in rentals or available space for more roommates to keep costs down. There should be incentives for homeowners with ADU's to rent to long-term residents instead of nightly rentals. Otherwise everyone will always choose nightly rentals if possible because they make more money. If there was a subsidy or incentive to rent to long-term residents who work in town there might be more opportunities for affordable rentals in town.  | 10/5/2025 12:34 PM |
| 36 | We had help from parents to buy our house, otherwise we couldn't afford it  | 10/5/2025 8:14 AM  |
| 37 | We were lucky to be able to buy a home here . For our children growing up in town is it almost impossible to do so  | 10/3/2025 9:13 AM  |
| 38 | Bought my house over 30 years ago when more affordable.   | 10/2/2025 10:54 PM |
| 39 | I work full time as an educator and still qualify for EBT (food stamps.) I make about $2,000 a month and my mortgage is $1,500 a month, which is actually pretty reasonable. I am a single mother, 2 children. I'm barely making it and I'm 100% counting on social security to get me by after I retire. I sure hope that doesn't get taken away. 😞 It deeply worries me.  | 10/2/2025 1:54 PM  |
| 40 | Our home is older and needs a ton of work. We would love to either be able to afford to remodel or move. But local construction prices and home prices severely limit those options.  | 10/2/2025 1:17 PM  |
